HIGHLIGHTS OF THE MONTH

The humanitarian situation is worsening for many Yemenis, while fighting continues in many areas of the country. Eighty per cent of the population – 24.1 million people – need some form of humanitarian assistance. Two-hundred-thirty out of Yemen's 333 districts are at risk of famine, and in 45 districts, an estimated of 2.8 million people are facing catastrophic food insecurity.

An estimated 3.34 million people are internally displaced across the country; another 1 million have returned to their homes. Fighting since the start of the year has displaced more than 300,000 people.

Yemen remains the world's largest humanitarian operation, providing food, water, healthcare, protection and other services across the country. Despite a difficult operating environment, since the beginning of 2019, 170 international and national humanitarian organizations working through the Yemen Humanitarian Response Plan (YHRP) are assisting an average of 12 million people every month.

Severe shortage of funding to the YHRP is threatening the continuation of humanitarian programmes. By the end of July, the YHRP was 33.7 per cent funded, of the $4.2 billion required to provide assistance to more than 20 million people by the end of the year.

UNFPA's funding status has not changed since last month with US$33.7 million received of the US$110.5 million required for its response in 2019. If more funding is not received within the coming months, UNFPA would be forced to shutdown and downscale its operations. This would prevent one million women from receiving reproductive health services and half a million women from receiving protection services. Since January 2019, UNFPA as lead of the Rapid Response Mechanism has provided immediate relief to more than a million people displaced from the frontlines; nearly half a million with reproductive health services and assisted some 35,000 survivors of violence.

SPECIALIZED CARE FOR SURVIVORS OF VIOLENCE

Rima was married off to her cousin when she turned fourteen years, as means to ease the families economic pressures brought about by conflict.

Within the first year of marriage, Rima's husband became extremely violent towards her, both physically and psychologically. When Rima was three months pregnant, she could no longer withstand the violence; she ran away to her parents house ,seeking protection from her husband.

Rima's husband soon followed her to her family home, demanding Rima's return at gun point. In confrontation with her parents, Rima's husband pulled his gun and fired five shots to her mother's head and chest. Rima watched her mother taking her last breath and die in front of her.

Soon after her mother's funeral, Rima's father disappeared. She was traumatized and unable to cope with the feeling of guilt for losing her mother because of her actions. She did not want to bring up a children from a man who killed her mother.

Seeing Rima's mental state, her neighbours decided to take her to Sana'a to get treatment at a UNFPA-supported specialized psychological centre run by the Family Counseling and Development Foundation. At the Centre, Rima was referred to the psychiatrist and placed on a treatment plan for Post Traumatic Stress Disorder with close monitoring and therapeutic sessions. Five months later, her thoughts of self-harm are no more and being a month away from welcoming her baby into the world, she is looking forward to a new lease at life.

UNFPA currently supports three such specialized psychological care centres in Sana'a, Aden and Taizz Governorates. These centers aim to reduce the psychological effects of survivors of violence and provide them with specialized mental health services. These have helped to fill a major gap in the provision of mental health and psychosocial support services in the country.

AL MUKALLA HUB

- 7,867 women and girls received reproductive health services.
- 13 health facilities supported to provide emergency obstetric and neonatal care.

RAPID RESPONSE MECHANISM (RRM)

UNFPA is leading the efforts of three agencies i.e. UNFPA, UNICEF and WFP to distribute immediate, most critical life-saving emergency supplies to families who are newly displaced, on the move, in hard-to-reach areas or stranded close to the front lines, as well as most vulnerable returnees. The RRM minimum assistance package is comprised of these components: (1) ready to eat food provided by WFP; (2) family basic hygiene kits provided by UNICEF; and (3) one female dignity/transit kit provided by UNFPA. More than 16,754 RRM kits were distributed in July 2019. Other highlights for the period June 2018 to July 2019 include:
